The Psychics....

What do you say about the psychic who possesses a clear understanding of all elements of the mysterious mental process called psychic phenomena, and is then able to convert that information into what becomes the obvious?

Where do you find the psychic with teaching methods so precise and retainable, a guide into what might well be the 7th sense of discovery, and access into the dwindling world of independent thinking?

Why do specific people think in terms of creative inspiration, outside the limits of normal sensory stimuli, and transmit that skill to provoke thought in others?

How are students able to absorb confidence to explore the invisible thought world, and proceed in life with their own expression in creative thinking at a level suitable for endeavors of their own?

~ Who else, by example, teaches grasp; not only the seizing of information, but also the firm grip of diligence that propels us forward and promises success?

The Psychic referred to in this article is Carol Ann Liaros, founder of The Creative Community Institute, Inc., in Buffalo, New York: friend and example of extreme womanhood to her volunteers of 20 years, Marina, Kathy, and Sandee Moore who contributed the article.
